

Missions Highlight

During this time of doing Royal Rangers remotely many outpost leaders are looking for activities to enjoy with their boys that don't require a lot of special gear or facilities. One activity some are turning to is a "missions highlight" where a missionary is chosen and contacted for information concerning their ministry and the ways the outpost can be of assistance to them. This can be done live online as part of your Remote Rangers meeting using some form of video calling platform such as Skype, Zoom, or Google Handouts, or it could be done by email, phone call, or other means, gathering information in advance if the missionary isn't available for a live call during your meeting.

The Assemblies of God World Missions (AGWM) web site at AGWM.org provides an easy means for identifying missionaries all over the world and obtaining contact information. Take some time to review this site and spend time in prayer for our missionaries and the important work they are doing all around the world. Then decide which one you would like to highlight with your group and get in contact with them. Our missionaries love to hear from people back home who want to partner with them in their missions efforts.

MERIT CONNECTION

This activity can be used to satisfy some of the requirements for the Global Missions merits (blue and green). Merit requirements can be found online at RoyalRangers.com/merits.
