

Reptile Study Merit

Some answers will need to be written on a separate sheet of paper and placed into your workbook.

1. List the four classifications of reptiles. Give an example of each.

a. _____

example: _____

b. _____

example: _____

c. _____

example _____

d. _____

example: _____

2. Describe the physical features that help make a reptile unique from other animals and how a reptile's heart structure affects its level of activity.

a. _____

b. _____

c. _____

d. _____

e. _____

A reptile's heart structure affects its level of activity because it is _____

3. Observe a reptile in the wild. Describe the animal's habitat. What would you expect it to eat based on its habitat? Now research the reptile using the Internet, an encyclopedia, or other source and list what the reptile typically eats.

The reptile I observed: _____

Habitat for this reptile: _____

It will eat: _____

4. Choose a certain reptile and describe what it needs to survive in these four categories: temperature, humidity, nutrition, and habitat.

Complete MWS 2 "Reptile Habitat."

Leader's Initials

Date _____

Leader's Initials

Date _____

Leader's Initials

Date _____

Leader's Initials

Date _____

5. Explain how warm-blooded and cold-blooded animals are different. Tell if reptiles are warm-blooded or cold-blooded.

Warm-blooded animals have body temperatures that _____

Cold-blooded animals have body temperatures that _____

Reptiles are _____

6. Learn what laws pertain to the protection, capturing, and killing of reptiles in your area. Name two protected or endangered reptile species found in your area.

Two of the threatened or endangered reptile species found in my state are

7. List at least two reasons and/or benefits to a reptile for shedding its skin.

8. List at least four ways reptiles can be dangerous to the world around them.

9. Explain five ways reptiles can benefit their environment and us.

10. Name the five factors that place any animal species, including those of reptiles, at risk of becoming threatened, endangered, or extinct.

Leader's Initials
Date _____

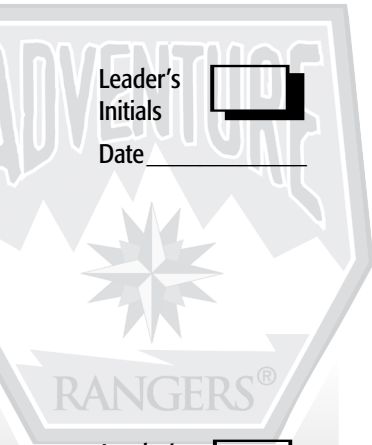

Leader's Initials
Date _____

Leader's Initials
Date _____

Leader's Initials
Date _____

Leader's Initials
Date _____

Leader's Initials
Date _____

11. Participate in caring for a captive reptile at least once a week for four weeks. (Wild-caught reptiles DO NOT make good pets!) Write a report describing your experiences and what you liked and disliked about this particular animal.

The reptile I cared for: _____

12. Name three of the most common causes of reptile deaths in captivity.

13. Describe four main methods snakes use to move and explain how each method is different.

14. Name two methods snakes use to subdue their prey.

a. _____
b. _____

15. List the features that would help you identify a venomous snake. Learn the proper treatment for both a venomous and nonvenomous snakebite.

Features of a venomous snake: _____

First aid for venomous snakebite:

a. _____
b. _____
c. _____

First aid for nonvenomous snakebite: _____

Leader's Initials

Date _____

Leader's Initials

Date _____

Leader's Initials

Date _____

Leader's Initials

Date _____

Leader's Initials

Date _____